

United Technicians' Pension and Profit-Sharing Lawsuit Update

(Bybee et al v. IBT et al, Case No. 22-16280 Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals)

February 27, 2023

Another quick procedural update for those keeping track – United and the Teamsters asked for an additional extension to file their answering brief to our appellate opening brief.

A motion was filed today by the United Defendants, with the Union Defendants joining, with the Ninth Circuit requesting an additional one-week extension, which would make the answering brief due on March 8, 2023. We would then have twenty-one (21) days to file a reply to their brief, once filed, if we decide a reply is necessary. We will post the motion to the website with this update.

As always, we are grateful for all of your support and interest in the case.
